I am beginning to learn how art changes over time

Success Criteria:

I will be able to talk about/list differences in art work by considering colour, features, design, style.

Today, we start our new project which is going to be interesting and a lot of fun (I hope!).

You may just consider art as a fun past-time or hobby and it is that, but it is more.

Over time, art changes and moves on as life changes and moves on, and artists look for different ways of expressing their ideas.

Art history is important because art helps historians learn about lifestyles, fashions and events through the years that have gone. Today, we record evidence through photographs and videos, but the first camera wasn't invented until 1816, and even then hardly anyone owned one. Only rich people had photographs in their homes. So paintings tell historians a lot of information about how people lived.

Painting from 1800s

(Remember we are in the 2000s)

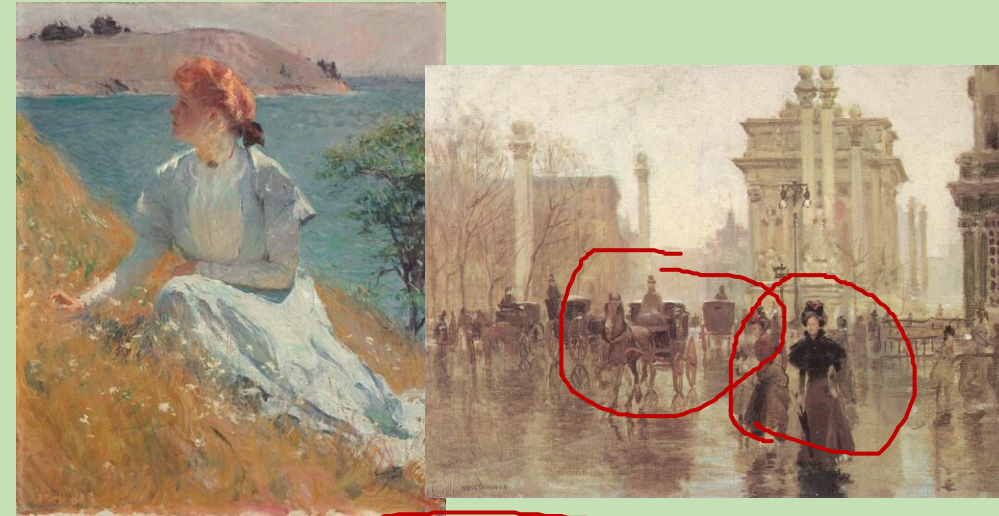

Painting from 1850s

(Similar clothing, manual work....)

Painting from 1900s

(Clothes, lifestyle, transport, colours...)

Painting from 1900 (Matisse & Picasso)

Painting from 2000 – modern art

(David Hockney, Damian Hirst, Banksy)

So now take a good look at these two paintings...

Talk to whoever is with you about what you notice, what is the same, different?
Are they both art? Why? Why not? Which do you think is older? Why do you think this.

They are also on the next slide if anyone wants to print them.

Your task:

Write down what you notice about these 2 paintings.

There is no right or wrong answer. Art is very individual.

Think about whether you like them, which do you prefer? Why? colour, shape, form, how you think they may have been painted, etc.

Start by answering these questions, then continue with your own thoughts

1. Which painting is oldest? Why do you think this?
2. What is the biggest difference that you notice?
3. What can you find out about life when the first picture was painted?

Then I'd like you to try to write down

YEAR 2: 7 more thoughts, in full sentences, of your own.

YEAR 1: 3-4 more thoughts of your own, also in full sentences

Remember capital letters, full stops, finger spacing, write on the lines.

The Haywain, John Constable, 1820s
(so over 200 years before Mrs Lee was born....)

The Woman with the Flowered Hat,
Roy Lichtenstein
1960s (so roughly when Mrs Lee was born...)
